

Graham Russell

Managing Director of the ASX-Listed Talius Group Limited.

Graham has over 20 years' experience building and expanding technology companies across the APAC region. In this time, he has stayed at the forefront of innovation and new technologies, such as IoT, AI and Big Data Analytics to develop hardware and software solutions for industries as diverse as Security and Aged Care.

Passionate about helping our older generation stay independent and improve their quality of life, later in life. In his role as Managing director of the ASX-listed Talius Group Limited, Graham is challenging the status quo of the industry and looking into the future of Aged Care and how technology can help us build a genuinely people-centric system.

Instrumental in the launch and development of the Talius™ system, a sensor-based platform that analyses sensors and creates proactive alerts for care providers, Graham has worked with numerous National Aged Care Providers, Government agencies, Utility and Telecommunication companies throughout the region to transform the way we approach aged care.

“Passionate about helping our older generation stay independent and improve their quality of life later in life.”
